here it comes!!!

High 5's

Lots to celebrate this week!

High 5's to Austin and Emily for stepping up and taking on more and more!!

Big High 5 to the nursing team for supporting the Vets
in the co-consult role

Team Reminders

OK, so quite a few reminders!

Next week we have Patrick's birthday bash breakfast – 7.15am at Archers Table!! This is the start of Patrick's birthday celebrations, so lets all get there on time to make it memorable for him!!

Patrick is off Thursday and Friday

Roxby Downs next Tuesday and Wednesday – Roger and Amber.

Ellie on leave for the week, so this will leave JiaYi and Nikki as the only nursing staff. No surgeries booked on those days – push them all into Thursday and Roger will pick it up then.

Emily and Amber have their zoom training resume on Monday at 10am

Just a note about the language we use - when talking about boarding, and explaining how the times tick over to the next day - use Nikki's idea of - its just like a hotel. At 11 o'clock it ticks over to the next day. Please don't use words like - if you don't pick up before 11, its an additional charge.

Can all staff please put your initials in the boarding bookings – if there are any problems or queries, then boarding staff can follow through with the right person and get the full information!!

Please remember.....

Can you please remember to get a sick certificate to cover any sick days.... If I don't have a sick certificate, I will use a day of your leave, if you don't have leave, it will be a day without pay.

Im super, super sorry to have to implement this, but as you can imagine, with more and more staff numbers, its important that we all use the correct procedures.

Rabbits – please remember that when advising clients about rabbits coming in for surgery – that they do NOT fast!!

Leave – the leave form section on the portal is now operational, BUT if you are having problems with it, then PLEASE email me with your requested dates.

I guess its also the right time to talk about leave requests – I may not always be able to meet your requests – it can depend on if other staff have already requested leave, or if there are planned events, etc – I will always do my best, but please don't assume that I can always grant exactly what you want.

And finally!!
Thankyou
for being part of the diverse
team that makes up Redgum!

Have a great weekend!!
